Itinerary*

Day 1: Arrive at Dehradun airport and Drive to Uttarkashi (1450m)

Arrive at Dehradun airport in the morning and drive to Uttarkashi (5-6 hrs) where we spend the night in a hotel. Uttarkashi is a holy town on the banks of the river Bhagirathi, a tributary of the river Ganga and our hotel is situated next to the river bank.

Day 2: Trek to Bebra (2241m)

Distance: 8km

Total Ascent & Descent: 992m and 462m

Short but beautiful drive to Sangam Chatti (20 min) on the banks of the Assi Ganga river from where we start our trek to the village of Agoda. The walk goes through beautiful terraced fields and a deciduous forest. Agoda is a remote Himalayan village and Bebra, our campsite, is 1.5 km further away in a forest-clearing, near a clear stream.

Day 3: Bebra to Dodital (3100m)

Distance: 15km

Total Ascent & Descent: 1443m and 565m

Today we will trek to Dodital, a beautiful lake at 3100 meters. The trail, carpeted by fallen leaves, goes through thick forests of oak and deodar. We will go through Manjhi, a summer settlement of the people from Agoda, who come to graze the high-altitude grasslands (bugyals in local language) in the summer season. Dodital itself is nestled in-between a beautiful backdrop of thick-green forest-covered slopes and is teeming with brown and golden trout fish.

Day 4: Dodital to Darwa pass and to Kanasar (3900 meters)

Distance: 6.5 km

Total Ascent & Descent: 948m and 298m

The trail takes us alongside a stream that feed the Dodital and climbs steadily to Darwa pass and onward to Darwa top. Panoramic views of the Great Himalayan Range open up from here, especially the striking Banderpoonch (Monkey Tail), Swargorihini and Kala Nag (Black Serpent Peak).

Day 5: Kanasar to Kandoli (2800 meters)

Distance: 10.5 km

Total Ascent & Descent: 307m and 1295m

The trail from Kanasar to Kandoli is a memorable one as you walk on several interconnected high-altitude meadows which also serve as grazing grounds. After we reach the last meadow of Seema we begin our descent to Camp Kandoli through lush forests of Himalayan oak and rhododendron. Overnight Camp Kandoli.

Day 6: Kandoli to Hanuman Chatti (2400 meters)

Distance: 4.7 km

Total Ascent & Descent: 35m and 764m

The downhill walk today will take us approximately 3 hours, before we start to see the first signs of civilization. We are now in the Hanuman Ganga valley, through which flows the river Yamuna, which finally winds downstream to Delhi (albeit in very bad shape!). From Hanuman Chatti you can drive down to Dehradun (6 hours) for your onward journey.
